

BREASTFEEDING RESOURCE LIST

Some insurance companies pay for breast pump rentals for medical reasons & provide a personal use pump with a physician's prescription. Call your insurance provider before you rent to see if they cover the rental. Mothers on WIC should contact the WIC office for pump availability and breastfeeding support. We provide this information as a resource and guide to our patients. While we assume these services are of value, we do not formally promote one service over another, and assume no liability for information they may share.
