

Nutrition Counseling

Nutrition counseling with a registered dietitian can help you improve your health and feel better—whether you’re already fairly healthy, or you have complex medical conditions.

In nutrition counseling (also called Medical Nutrition Therapy, or MNT) you’ll learn how to improve your diet to help you lead a healthy life or to achieve specific health goals. It includes:

- One-on-one counseling with a registered dietitian. A registered dietitian is a nutrition expert with an advanced degree in a dietetics program and clinical training in how diet can treat different health conditions.
- A personalized eating plan and support.

Nutrition counseling is especially helpful for diet-related conditions, such as:

- Cancer
- Celiac disease
- Diabetes or pre-diabetes
- Eating disorders
- Food allergies
- Gastrointestinal disorders
- Heart disease
- High blood pressure
- High cholesterol
- Weight management problems

Cost:

- SelectHealth members can have 5 visits a year for diet-related issues, such as those listed above. There’s no co-pay and nothing out-of-pocket.
- Many other insurance providers cover nutrition counseling. Call to your provider to confirm.
